

Forever Friends

I never expected this to happen
I never wanted a space between us
But I cannot fix what has been broken
So now how can our relationship last?
We know that we understood each other
And then our friendship became unstable
We can't deny that we miss each other
Yet being friends again is possible
Our own childishness has sent us apart
But this can become a fresh new start
Listening to the voices in our hearts
We once again will be reunited
I want us to be good friends once again
And hug each other for the count of ten.
