

Friends

Who will comfort me when I don't feel good?
Who stays with me when my time is boring?
Who will help with my work in a good mood?
And who I can trust to tell everything?
My dear, caring, loving, trust-worthy friends,
You are the ones I really care about,
I hope that our friendship will never end,
With your hearts and mine floating all around.
Look at those blinking stars in the black sky,
They are shining officially for cheer,
Leading us to the door where friendships lie,
Which provide us whole-hearted loving gear.
I'm fearless with you on top of the cliff,
I will love my friends as long as I live.
